PRESS RELEASE

We are pleased to announce that Da Vinci Capital Management has won the “Investment Fund of the Year” award at Investor Awards 2011 (www.investorawards.ru). Winners in other nominations include Troika Dialog, Baring Vostok Capital Partners and UC Rusal.

The Investor Awards forum is organized independently by two Russian financial magazines – Investor.ru and Securities Market with support from the investment bank Otkritie.

Eric Maillebiau, a principal of Da Vinci Capital, said: "We highly appreciate the recognition of Da Vinci Capital by our peers, especially as the Russian private equity sector remains extremely challenging and only strong performers manage to stand out at the moment. This award is a clear sign that our constant dedication to delivering value to our investors and to developing local financial services sector of the highest professional standard is paying off and we will strive to maintain those standards going forward."

Da Vinci Capital is an independent asset manager with $300m under management, including close to $100m in its first Private Equity fund. It is currently raising its second Private Equity fund, with a focus on the capital markets and financial sector in Russia and the CIS. For further details, please see www.dvcap.com
