Da Vinci Capital receives the Rising Star Award for Best Russian & CEE Private Equity Fund from the International Private Equity Exchange & Awards Forum.

Moscow, Russia — The International Private Equity Exchange and Awards Forum awarded Da Vinci Capital the Rising Star Award for Best Russian & Central/East European Private Equity Fund.

The Rising Star Award recognizes performers with remarkable evolution and high potential practices in specific sectors and regions of the private equity industry. Firms are first selected by a peer committee consisting of more than 80 experts, which nominate the best actors in private equity based on a qualitative and quantitative oriented methodology. Nominees are then selected based on their performance for the past three years, track record, ROI, IRR, quality of investments, exit performance, caps for LBO funds, and the number and size of deals over the last five years.

“The Rising Star Award marks a new milestone for Da Vinci Capital,” said managing partner Oleg Jelezko. “We believe that a market leader needs to demonstrate consistent performance throughout economic cycles and volatile markets. At Da Vinci Capital we apply this business principle and feel confident that we will continue to add value for both our investors and portfolio companies. We are proud to be recognized as one of the leading Russian and Central/East European Funds by the International Private Equity Exchange and Awards Forum.”

About the International Private Equity Exchange & Awards Forum

The International Private Equity Exchange and Awards Forum, organized by the Leaders League in 2001, is the largest private equity and restructuring summit in Europe for CEOs, funds, and limited partners, gathering over 1,000 professionals from all over the globe. Over 80 experienced international speakers attend the summit to debate new issues and challenges facing the private equity industry. The conference also gives opportunities for private equity key players to enhance their networks through lunches and one-on-one meetings. The awards ceremony acknowledges the most outstanding limited partners, funds and management teams for their successful results, management skills and long-term strategies.
